Itinerary Ancient corinth from athens

Early in the morning, at the time indicated, we will pick you up from your hotel or closest meeting point. We will start this great excursion to Ancient Corinth, the city whose wealth rested on the control of trade in the western Mediterranean.

First, you will stop at the famous Corinth canal, called Isthmus in Greek. We'll take panoramic pictures of the spot where the Peloponnese peninsula and Central Greece meet as well as where the Aegean connects with the Ionian Sea.

You will then visit Ancient Corinth with its amazing artifacts, some of which date back to 6000 BC. The remains of the City include the Agora and Apollo's Temple (6th century BC). They show how rich and important Corinth was in antiquity.

In the middle of the central row of shops in the Agora, there is a bema, a marble podium from which Roman officials and also St. Paul addressed the people. The Romans rebuilt the city in 44 BC and later made it the provincial capital of Greece.

On your way back to Athens, you will make a brief stop at the Site of the Ancient Port of Cehries, where St. Paul disembarked from Thessaloniki. For Christians, Corinth is mentioned in the New Testament, when Saint Paul addressed the town's residents in his two epistles. It is mentioned again in the Acts of the Apostles during St Paul's evangelical work.

At around 14:00 hours, we will return to Athens and your driver will drop you off at your hotel or the nearest pickup point.

Greca Tip: Visit the on-site excellent museum, where you can see two kouros statues, fine Greek and Roman mosaics, figurines, reliefs, and friezes. You can also see the pretty courtyard with its fine reliefs.

What other travelers say about us

Excellent Personal Service

I went on a tour of Delphi and Meteora with GRECA VIAJES and my experience was exceptional. The tour took place according to plan, very punctual, our guide Maria was in charge of making the trip very pleasant with her stories and anecdotes about Greece and especially all the information she gave us about the sites themselves, highly recommended.
